Turning Your Phone On and Off

Turning Your Phone On

► Press and hold ⌈END⌀⌉ for three seconds.

Once your phone is on, it may display "Looking for Service". When your phone finds a signal, it enters Standby Mode – the phone's idle state. At this point, you are ready to begin making and receiving calls.

If your phone is unable to find a signal after 15 minutes of searching, a Power Save feature is automatically activated. When a signal is found, your phone automatically returns to standby mode.

In Power Save mode, your phone searches for a signal periodically without your intervention. You can also initiate a search for Sprint service by pressing any key (when your phone is turned on).

Tip	The Power Save feature conserves your battery power when you are in an area where there is no signal.

Turning Your Phone Off

► Press and hold ⌈END⌀⌉ for three seconds until you see the powering-down animation on the display screen.

Your screen remains blank while your phone is off (unless the battery is charging).

Battery and Charger

WARNING	Use only Sprint-approved or LG-approved batteries and chargers with your phone. The failure to use a Sprint-approved or LG-approved battery and charger may increase the risk that your phone will become damaged or even cause the battery to catch fire.

Sprint-approved or LG-approved batteries and accessories can be found at Sprint Stores or through LG; or call 1-866-866-7509 to order. They're also available at www.sprint.com.

Battery Capacity

Your phone is equipped with a Lithium-Ion Polymer (Li-poly) battery. It allows you to recharge your battery before it is fully drained. The battery provides up to 5.5 hours of continuous digital talk time.

When the battery reaches 5% of its capacity, the battery icon blinks. When there are approximately two minutes of talk time left, the phone sounds an audible alert and then turns off.

| Note | Long backlight settings, searching for service, vibrate mode, browser use, and other variables may reduce the battery's talk and standby times. |

| Tip | Watch your phone's battery level indicator and charge the battery before it runs out of power. |

Installing the Battery

1. Slide the battery cover upward and remove the battery cover from the back of the phone.

2. Insert the battery into the opening, making sure the connectors align. Gently press down to secure the battery.

3. Replace the battery cover and slide it downward until you hear a click.

Removing the Battery

1. Make sure the power is off so that you don't lose any stored numbers or messages.

2. Slide the battery cover upward and remove the battery from the phone.

WARNING	Do not handle a damaged or leaking Li-poly battery as you can be burned.

Charging the Battery

Keeping track of your battery's charge is important. If your battery level becomes too low, your phone automatically turns off, and you will lose any information you were just working on.

Always use a Sprint-approved or LG-approved desktop charger, travel charger, or vehicle power adapter to charge your battery.

▶ Plug the flat end of the charger into the phone's charger jack and the other end into an electrical outlet. Make sure that the end going into the phone has the "B" side facing up when inserting.

   ■ A red indicator light means the battery is charging.

   ■ A green indicator light means the battery is at least 90 percent charged.

With the Sprint-approved Li-poly battery, you can recharge the battery before it discharges completely.

Tip	Remember, when you are using your phone off the Nationwide Sprint Network, always dial numbers using 11 digits (1 + area code + number).

Roaming on Other Digital Networks

When you're roaming on digital networks, your call quality and security will be similar to the quality you receive when making calls on the Nationwide Sprint Network. However, you may not be able to access certain features, such as data services, depending on the available network.

Roaming on Analog Networks

When you roam on analog networks, you will experience quality similar to that provided by other analog carriers today. Although some features, such as Web, will be unavailable, you can still make and receive calls and access voicemail. If you are accustomed to Sprint service, you may notice some of the following differences when using analog service:

● You are more likely to experience static, crosstalk, fade-out, and dropped calls.

● Some features which are standard on the Nationwide Sprint Network, such as call waiting, data services, and direct international dialing, may be unavailable.

● Though callers can leave voicemail messages while you are roaming, you may not receive notification until you return to the Nationwide Sprint Network. (See "Checking for Voicemail Messages While Roaming" on page 108.)

● There are security and privacy risks (eavesdropping and cloning) that exist with conventional analog services today.

● Your battery's charge will deplete more quickly and you will need to recharge it more often when you use your phone for analog roaming.

Note When using your phone in analog mode, the phone may feel warm. This is normal for analog operation.

Getting Started With Data Services

With your Sprint service, you are ready to start enjoying the advantages of data services. This section will help you learn the basics of using your data services, including managing your user name, launching a data connection, and navigating the Web with your phone.

Your User Name

When you buy your phone and sign up for service, you're automatically assigned a user name, which is typically based on your name and a number, followed by "@sprintpcs.com." (For example, the third John Smith to sign up for Sprint data services might have jsmith003@sprintpcs.com as his user name.)

When you use data services, your user name is submitted to identify you to the Nationwide Sprint Network.

Your user name will be automatically programmed into your phone. You don't have to enter it.

Finding Your User Name

If you aren't sure what your user name is, you can easily find it on your phone.

▶ Press [MENU/OK] > Settings > Phone Information > Version.

Updating Your User Name

If you choose to change your user name and select a new one online, you must then update the user name on your phone.

▶ Press [OK] > Web. (Your data connection starts and you see the SprintWeb℠ home page.)

| Note | If Net Guard is enabled and displayed (see page 112), press OK (right softkey) to continue and launch the Web. |

While connecting, you may see an animation and a "Connecting" message.

Net Guard

When you first connect to the Web, the Net Guard will be displayed to confirm that you want to connect. This feature helps you avoid accidental connections.

▶ Press [OK] > Settings > More... > Data > Net Guard.

■ Select On to activate the Net Guard.

■ Select Off to deactivate the Net Guard.

| Note | When enabled, the Net Guard appears only once as long as you have not turned the phone off and on. |

Data Connection Status and Indicators

Your phone displays the current status of your data connection through indicators at the top of the screen. The following symbols are used:

Your phone is on and is connected to the Sprint 3G data network. When the arrows are white/gray, your phone is transferring data (for example, when you are opening a Web page) and you cannot receive calls. When the arrows are white, your phone is connected to the network but is not currently transferring data (for example, when you are viewing a Web page that is completely open), and you can receive calls.

If you do not see an indicator, your phone does not have a current data connection. To launch a connection, see "Launching a Web Connection" on page 112.

Data Services FAQs

How will I know when my phone is ready for data service?
Your user name (for example, bsmith01@sprintpcs.com)
will be displayed when you access `MENU/OK` > Settings >
Phone Information > Phone Number.

How do I sign in for the first time?
You are automatically signed in to access data services when you turn on your phone.

How do I know when my phone is connected to data services?
Your phone automatically connects when you use data service or when an incoming message arrives. You will see the indicator.

Can I make calls and use data services at the same time?
You cannot use voice and data services simultaneously.
If you receive a call while data service is active, your phone forwards the call to voicemail. You can place an outgoing call anytime, but it will interrupt any in-progress data session.

When is my data connection active?
Your connection is active when data is being transferred.
Outgoing calls are allowed; incoming calls go directly to voicemail. When active, the indicator animates on your phone's display screen.

When is my data connection dormant?
If your phone receives no data for 10 seconds, the connection goes dormant. When the connection is dormant, you can make and receive voice calls. (The connection may become active again quickly.) If your phone receives no data for an extended period of time, the connection will terminate.

Can I sign out of data services?
You can sign out without turning off your phone;
however, you will not be able to browse the Web or use other data services. While signed out, you can still place or receive phone calls, check voicemail, and use other voice services. You may sign in again at any time. To sign out, go to Settings > More... > Data > On/Off in your phone's menu.

This phone guide contains important operational and safety information that will help you safely use your phone. Failure to read and follow the information provided in this phone guide may result in serious bodily injury, death, or property damage.

General Precautions

There are several simple guidelines to operating your phone properly and maintaining safe, satisfactory service.

● To maximize performance, do not touch the bottom portion of your phone where the internal antenna is located while using the phone.

● Speak directly into the mouthpiece.

● Avoid exposing your phone and accessories to rain or liquid spills. If your phone does get wet, immediately turn the power off and remove the battery.

● Do not expose your phone to direct sunlight for extended periods of time (such as on the dashboard of a car).

● Although your phone is quite sturdy, it is a complex piece of equipment and can be broken. Avoid dropping, hitting, bending, or sitting on it.

● Any changes or modifications to your phone not expressly approved in this document could void your warranty for this equipment and void your authority to operate this equipment.

Note	For the best care of your phone, only Sprint-authorized personnel should service your phone and accessories. Failure to do so may be dangerous and void your warranty.

Maintaining Safe Use of and Access to Your Phone

Do Not Rely on Your Phone for Emergency Calls

Mobile phones operate using radio signals, which cannot guarantee connection in all conditions. Therefore you should never rely solely upon any mobile phone for essential communication (e.g., medical emergencies). Emergency calls may not be possible on all cellular networks or when certain network services or mobile phone features are in use. Check with your local service provider for details.

Using Your Phone While Driving

Talking on your phone while driving (or operating the phone without a hands-free device) is prohibited in some jurisdictions. Laws vary as to specific restrictions. Remember that safety always comes first.

Tip	Purchase an optional hands-free accessory at your local Sprint Store, or call Sprint at 1-866-866-7509. You can also dial # 2 2 2 on your phone.

Following Safety Guidelines

To operate your phone safely and efficiently, always follow any special regulations in a given area. Turn your phone off in areas where use is forbidden or when it may cause interference or danger.

Using Your Phone Near Other Electronic Devices

Most modern electronic equipment is shielded from radio frequency (RF) signals. However, RF signals from wireless phones may affect inadequately shielded electronic equipment.

RF signals may affect improperly installed or inadequately shielded electronic operating systems or entertainment systems in motor vehicles. Check with the manufacturer or their representative to determine if these systems are adequately shielded from external RF signals. Also check with the manufacturer regarding any equipment that has been added to your vehicle.

Consult the manufacturer of any personal medical devices, such as pacemakers and hearing aids, to determine if they are adequately shielded from external RF signals.

Note	Always turn off the phone in healthcare facilities, and request permission before using the phone near medical equipment.

Turning Off Your Phone Before Flying

Turn off your phone before boarding any aircraft. To prevent possible interference with aircraft systems, the U.S. Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) regulations require you to have permission from a crew member to use your phone while the plane is on the ground. To prevent any risk of interference, FCC regulations prohibit using your phone while the plane is in the air.

Important Safety Information

Turning Off Your Phone in Dangerous Areas

To avoid interfering with blasting operations, turn your phone off when in a blasting area or in other areas with signs indicating two-way radios should be turned off. Construction crews often use remote-control RF devices to set off explosives.

Turn your phone off when you're in any area that has a potentially explosive atmosphere. Although it's rare, your phone and accessories could generate sparks. Sparks can cause an explosion or fire, resulting in bodily injury or even death. These areas are often, but not always, clearly marked. They include:

● Fueling areas such as gas stations.

● Below deck on boats.

● Fuel or chemical transfer or storage facilities.

● Areas where the air contains chemicals or particles such as grain, dust, or metal powders.

● Any other area where you would normally be advised to turn off your vehicle's engine.

Note   Never transport or store flammable gas, flammable liquids, or explosives in the compartment of your vehicle that contains your phone or accessories.

Restricting Children's Access to Your Phone

Your phone is not a toy. Do not allow children to play with it as they could hurt themselves and others, damage the phone or make calls that increase your Sprint invoice.

Using Your Phone With a Hearing Aid Device

A number of Sprint phones have been tested for hearing aid device compatibility. When some wireless phones are used with certain hearing devices (including hearing aids and cochlear implants), users may detect a noise which can interfere with the effectiveness of the hearing device.

Some hearing devices are more immune than others to this interference noise, and phones also vary in the amount of interference noise they may generate. ANSI standard C63.19 was developed to provide a standardized means of measuring both wireless phone and hearing devices to determine usability rating categories for both.

Ratings have been developed for mobile phones to assist hearing device users find phones that may be compatible with their hearing device. Not all phones have been rated for compatibility with hearing devices. Phones that have been rated have a label located on the box. Your RUMOR^{STM} has an M3 and a T4 rating.

These ratings are not guarantees. Results will vary depending on the user's hearing device and individual type and degree of hearing loss. If a hearing device is particularly vulnerable to interference noise; even a phone with a higher rating may still cause unacceptable noise levels in the hearing device. Trying out the phone with your hearing device is the best way to evaluate it for your personal needs.

M-Ratings: Phones rated M3 or M4 meet FCC requirements for hearing aid compatibility and are likely to generate less interference to hearing devices than unrated phones. (M4 is the better/higher of the two ratings.)

T-Ratings: Phones rated T3 or T4 meet FCC requirements and are likely to be more usable with a hearing device's telecoil ("T Switch" or "Telephone Switch") than unrated phones. (T4 is the better/higher of the two ratings. Note that not all hearing devices have telecoils in them.)

Hearing aid devices may also be measured for immunity to interference noise from wireless phones and should have ratings similar to phones. Ask your hearing healthcare professional for the rating of your hearing aid. Add the rating of your hearing aid and your phone to determine probable usability:

- Any combined rating equal to or greater than six offers excellent use.

- Any combined rating equal to five is considered normal use.

- Any combined rating equal to four is considered usable.

Thus, if you pair an M3 hearing aid with an M3 phone, you will have a combined rating of six for "excellent use." This is synonymous for T ratings.

Sprint further suggests you experiment with multiple phones (even those not labeled M3/T3 or M4/T4) while in the store to find the one that works best with your hearing aid device. Should you experience interference or find the quality of service unsatisfactory after purchasing your phone, promptly return it to the store within 30 days of purchase. With the Sprint 30-day Risk-Free Guarantee, you may return the phone within 30 days of purchase for a full refund. More information about hearing aid compatibility may be found at: www.fcc.gov, www.fda.gov, and www.accesswireless.org.

Getting the Best Hearing Device Experience With Your Phone

To further minimize interference:

- Set the phone's display and keypad backlight settings to ensure the minimum time interval:

  1. Press [OK] > Settings > Display > Main Screen > Backlight.

  2. Highlight the minimum time interval setting and press [OK].

- Position the phone so the internal antenna is farthest from your hearing aid.

- Move the phone around to find the point with least interference.

- To ensure that Hearing Aid Compatibility rating for your phone is maintained, secondary transmitters such as Bluetooth & WLAN components must be disabled during a call.

Important Safety Information

Caring for the Battery

Safety Information
Please read and observe the following information for safe and proper use of your phone and to prevent damage. Also, keep the user guide in an accessible place at all the times after reading it.

● Do not disassemble or open crush, bend or deform, puncture or shred.

● Do not modify or remanufacture, attempt to insert foreign objects into the battery, immerse or expose to water or other liquids, expose to fire, explosion or other hazard.

● Only use the battery for the system for which it is specified.

● Only use the battery with a charging system that has been qualified with the system per IEEE-Std-1725-2006 Use of an unqualified battery or charger may present a risk of fire, explosion, leakage, or other hazard.

● Do not short circuit a battery or allow metallic conductive objects to contact battery terminals.

● Replace the battery only with another battery that has been qualified with the system per IEEE-Std-1725-2006. Use of an unqualified battery may present a risk of fire, explosion, leakage or other hazard.

● Promptly dispose of used batteries in accordance with local regulations.

● Battery usage by children should be supervised.

● Avoid dropping the phone or battery. If the phone or battery is dropped, especially on a hard surface, and the user suspects damage, take it to a service center for inspection.

● Improper battery use may result in a fire, explosion or other hazard.

● The phone shall only be connected to USB products that bear the USB-IF logo or have completed the USB-IF compliance program.

Protecting Your Battery

The guidelines listed below help you get the most out of your battery's performance.

● Recently there have been some public reports of wireless phone batteries overheating, catching fire, or exploding. It appears that many, if not all, of these reports involve counterfeit or inexpensive, aftermarket-brand batteries with unknown or questionable manufacturing standards. Sprint is not aware of similar problems with Sprint phones resulting from the proper use of batteries and accessories approved by Sprint or the manufacturer of your phone. Use only Sprint-approved or manufacturer-approved batteries and accessories found at Sprint Stores or through your phone's manufacturer, or call 1-866-866-7509 to order. They're also available at www.sprint.com — click Accessories. Buying the right batteries and accessories is the best way to ensure they're genuine and safe.

● In order to avoid damage, charge the battery only in temperatures that range from 32° F to 113° F (0° C to 45° C).

● Don't use the battery charger in direct sunlight or in high humidity areas, such as the bathroom.

● Never dispose of the battery by incineration.

● Keep the metal contacts on top of the battery clean.

● Don't attempt to disassemble or short-circuit the battery.

● The battery may need recharging if it has not been used for a long period of time.

● It's best to replace the battery when it no longer provides acceptable performance. It can be recharged hundreds of times before it needs replacing.

● Don't store the battery in high temperature areas for long periods of time. It's best to follow these storage rules:

> Less than one month:
> -4° F to 140° F (-20° C to 60° C)
> More than one month:
> -4° F to 113° F (-20° C to 45° C)

Disposal of Lithium Ion Polymer (Li-poly) Batteries
Do not handle a damaged or leaking Li-poly battery as you can be burned.

For safe disposal options of your Li-poly batteries, contact your nearest Sprint authorized service center.

Special Note: Be sure to dispose of your battery properly. In some areas, the disposal of batteries in household or business trash may be prohibited.

Radio Frequency (RF) Energy

Understanding How Your Phone Operates
Your phone is basically a radio transmitter and receiver. When it's turned on, it receives and transmits radio frequency (RF) signals. When you use your phone, the system handling your call controls the power level. This power can range from 0.006 watt to 0.2 watt in digital mode.

Knowing Radio Frequency Safety
The design of your phone complies with updated NCRP standards described below.

In 1991–92, the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers (IEEE) and the American National Standards Institute (ANSI) joined in updating ANSI's 1982 standard for safety levels with respect to human exposure to RF signals. More than 120 scientists, engineers and physicians from universities, government health agencies and industries developed this updated standard after reviewing the available body of research. In 1993, the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) adopted this updated standard in a regulation. In August 1996, the FCC adopted hybrid standard consisting of the existing ANSI/IEEE standard and the guidelines published by the National Council of Radiation Protection and Measurements (NCRP).

Body-Worn Operation
To maintain compliance with FCC RF exposure guidelines, if you wear a handset on your body, use a Sprint-supplied or Sprint-approved carrying case, holster or other body-worn accessory. If you do not use a body-worn accessory, ensure the antenna is at least 25/32 inch (2 centimeters) from your body when transmitting. Use of non-Sprint-approved accessories may violate FCC RF exposure guidelines.

For more information about RF exposure, visit the FCC website at www.fcc.gov.

Specific Absorption Rates (SAR) for Wireless Phones

The SAR value corresponds to the relative amount of RF energy absorbed into the head of a user of a wireless handset.

The SAR value of a phone is the result of an extensive testing, measuring and calculation process. It does not represent how much RF the phone emits. All phone models are tested at their highest value in strict laboratory settings. But when in operation, the SAR of a phone can be substantially less than the level reported to the FCC. This is because of a variety of factors including its proximity to a base station antenna, phone design and other factors. What is important to remember is that each phone meets strict federal guidelines. Variations in SARs do not represent a variation in safety.

All phones must meet the federal standard, which incorporates a substantial margin of safety. As stated above, variations in SAR values between different model phones do not mean variations in safety. SAR values at or below the federal standard of 1.6 W/kg are considered safe for use by the public.

The highest reported SAR values of the RUMOR²™ are:

> Cellular CDMA mode (Part 22):
> Head: 1.51 W/kg; Body-worn: 1.10 W/kg
>
> PCS mode (Part 24):
> Head: 1.04 W/kg; Body-worn: 0.556 W/kg

FCC Radio Frequency Emission

This phone meets the FCC Radio Frequency Emission Guidelines.
